Davismen Open League Against Downingtown

Veteran Team. Weak in Pitching Staff. Plays Away Saturday

HOME GAME ON SUNDAY

By JOHN MULLIGAN
Narberth Baseball Club, defending champion of the Main Line League, will begin a new campaign in quest of titular laurels tomorrow afternoon when Downingtown, new loop entry, is met on the latter's diamond.

Manager Gene Davis' charges are not scheduled to play a league game on Sunday, but will meet Royersford, a fast semi-pro nine, at the community playground.

It will be a veteran team which borough rooters will see in action at Downingtown and here a day later. Skipper Davis is well satisfied with all except his pitching staff. He expects to add strength in this department before the first half is very old.

Brennan Back

Davis also has announced that Johnny Brennan, who has been trying out with Richmond, of the Piedmont League, has been given his release and will be in the Narberth outfield this week-end. Another lad who had a trial as a shortstopper for the Colts, Mickey Gavin, will play shortstop for the Davismen.

The rest of the line-up will be the same as that which brought Narberth a championship in 1935. Jack Eachus, former Ursinus all-around athlete, will work behind the mask. Buddy Walker, left-handed veteran who led the league in hitting last season, has returned to take care of first base.

Tanny Ralston, captain of Drexel Institute and All-Main Line League second baseman last year, will patrol the keystone territory. Either veteran Joel Rubincam or Swede Carlson, Penn A. C. infielder, will play the "hot corner" position.

Besides Brennan, who will roam left field, Davis has named Harry Ralston to patrol center and Bernie Umbach, another veteran, as the sun field performer.

Reserves to be held are Bill Boyer, an outfielder of several years' experience; Joe McCahon, vet catcher; Dave Stroup and Paul (Sixie) Kane. Stroup is a Narberth boy who was graduated from West Catholic High several years ago. Kane also learned his baseball in the borough and is a member of the Villanova College pitching staff. McCahon returns after a year's absence.

Needs Pitchers

Manager Davis will depend on the pitching of Jim McKee, Bill Reynolds and Nick Lyons for the present. He expects Al Herrmann, burly right-hander, to return from Penn A. C., as well as his brother, Russ, who is an infielder. Reynolds is a smart right-hander and Nick Lyons, who throws 'em with the same fin, was one of Narberth's best slab artists of 1935. Davis has hopes of signing George Severn, who helped to pitch Brookline to the second-half pennant.

Asked for his opinion of this year's club, Manager Davis said: "We don't look so hot. We'll have to get better pitching."

Narberth opened the season last Saturday by trouncing Girard Trust, 18-3, but bowed to Phoenixville on Sunday, 4-3, when a misjudged fly went for a home run and allowed three runs to cross.

Players to Elect Tuesday: Will Revive 1906 Drama

An election of officers and the auditors report will be given Tuesday evening at the annual meeting of the Narberth Players, which will be held in the auditorium of the Narberth School at 8 P. M.

A special feature will be a play which was given at the Old Elm Hall in Narberth, in 1906. It is entitled "The Trouble at Satterlee's" and is being coached by Martha Simpson, who had the lead in the former production. Several of the junior members have parts in the play. A social hour will follow when refreshments will be served.

Volunteer Emergency Dates

The Narberth Volunteer Emergency will be at the room in Elm Hall on Wednesday, May 20, and Wednesday, May 27. After June 1 the room will be closed, so appointments will have to be made. Call Narberth 3883.

Alumni Banquet, Play This Saturday Evening

Lower Merion Grads Will Enjoy Reunion at Senior High

The Alumni Dramatic Society has been busy for the past few weeks putting the final touches on a play which it will present the evening of the Lower Merion High School Alumni Society's reunion this Saturday. The reunion in itself will be a gala affair. The program committee announces a banquet at the Senior High School at 6 P. M., followed by a business meeting and then an adjournment to the Senior High School auditorium, where the dramatic group will present its play, "The Travelers," by Booth Tarkington. The play will be followed by a dance.

Playing for the dance will be the Highlanders—from 9:30 to 12. Two Spot Dance prizes will be awarded.

Mrs. Nelson Carter Wilbur, '26, of Rosemont, is directing the play and the cast will include Wilbur Zimmermann, George Werner, Nelson Wilbur, Ray Worrell, John Turner, John Jones, Jeannette Rudolph, Dorothy Keck, Shirley Boyer, Kitty Donnelly. They will give a one-act play in two scenes. The plot revolves about a small inn in Sicily. Dr. Zimmermann, who is chairman of the dramatic group, deserves a great deal of credit along with Mrs. Wilbur for her able direction.

The Nominating Committee has presented the following slate for reelection: President, Ross Wilbur; vice-president, Robert L. Elmore; recording secretary, Mary Scott McShane; corresponding secretary, Ellen Shaw, and a new treasurer, Florence Kerrigan, to succeed Mrs. Mabel Cunningham, who after many years' faithful service has asked to be relieved of her duties.

All alumni will be interested in the business meeting, when plans of the association will be discussed in detail and the constitution will be revised.

Play Day and Parents' Nights at Boro School

The annual Play Day of the Narberth public schools will be held on Friday, May 22, at 1:30 P. M., at the Community Playground, Windsor avenue near Wynnewood. An interesting and spectacular series of seventeen dances and drills will feature the program, followed by field contests.

Parents' Nights will be held Thursday and Friday evenings, May 21 and 22, from 7:30 to 10 o'clock. Thursday evening at 8:30 the Home Economics Department will present a fashion show, when the girls will model the garments made by them in their class work. All parents are cordially invited to visit the schools on these evenings that they may acquaint themselves with the actual work done throughout the year. All grades and departments will attempt to show the activities engaged in by the children during the school year.

Rabies Talk for Students

Dr. R. M. Staley, of Narberth, will talk on "The Control of Rabies" at a joint meeting of the Lower Merion High School Sophomore and Junior-Senior Science Club on Monday in Room 217.

Council Considers Street Improvements

Rockland Road Bridge Plan Approved: Borough Orders Hose

DONATION FOR PARADE

A program for the improvement of Narberth's thoroughfares was furthered at the May borough council meeting.

Burgess John R. Hall called the attention of the borough solons to the poor condition of sidewalks and also the lack of them on Wynnewood road, and it was indicated steps will be taken to remedy this situation. Informal discussion also had to do with the future cutting through of Wynnewood avenue to Wynnewood road and the extension of Homewood avenue. No action was taken.

Robert F. Wood, highway committee chairman, recommended that the borough co-operate in Lower Merion Township's plan to relieve the dangerous condition of the Rockland avenue bridge over the Pennsylvania railroad tracks. The plan includes widening the approaches and placing a walk along the present bridge. The borough would pay its share, estimated at $465, but not until after January 1, 1937, there being no provision for such an expenditure in this year's budget. This proposal will be put before the township commissioners and Pennsylvania Railroad officials, participants in sharing the cost. Motion passed.

Mr. Wood also reported that a survey of collection costs for ashes and rubbish showed that the 1935 rate was 75c a cubic yard, while in 1930 the rate was 90c a cubic yard.

William H. Durbin, chairman of the Public Safety Committee recommended the purchase of four 50-foot sections of 3-inch chemical hose at a cost of not over $80. Authorized. Mr. Durbin's report also included a letter pointing out that special parking privileges could not be granted to Mrs. Norman Jefferies, of 219 N. Narberth avenue, who had complained that on occasion there was no parking space available for her use in front of her house.

A framed copy of the Constitution of the United States, presented to Council by the Autocar Company, was accepted.

Burgess Hall will attend the 26th annual convention of the Pennsylvania State Association of Boroughs at Shamokin, June 16-18, as Narberth's official representative.

An appropriation of $150 was made by Council to the Harold D. Speakman Post, American Legion, to help defray its Memorial Day parade expenses.

Chas. Girvin Gets a Bite: Chas. Funk Gets the Fish

Four hundred and four croakers and porgies and eight cases of sunburn were caught off Reddis Beach, Delaware Bay, Monday by Charles Funk, Roy Kessinger, Charles Girvin, William Herd, Dave Ridge and James McMakin, of Narberth, and Roma Talone and William Maxwell, Bryn Mawr, on Captain Redman Stiles' Sally II.

High spot of the day was Sergeant Girvin's discovery he had a bite, exciting him so much that in an off moment he dropped rod and line overboard. They were fished up by Charles Funk, fish and all—but only after the pole, which happened not to be tied to the line, had hit bottom.

Wynnewood Delivery Sought

House-to-house mail delivery service for Wynnewood is being sought by the Wynnewood Civic Association. Miss Emma Eakins, postmistress, is co-operating in the movement. Delivery would not interfere with residents desiring to continue using boxes.

The Civic Association also favors the replacement of a safety fence at the Pennsylvania's Railroad Wynnewood station.

Cards for Library Users

The Narberth Community Library Board of Trustees this week approved the proposal of Librarian Clara E. Follette to provide cards to all patrons of the library when they register to draw books.

The new method will afford a more accurate list of users and also will save the librarians considerable work. The plan is used by nearly all large libraries.

Narberth Bank Marks Second Anniversary

Deposits at Half Million: Insure Safety Vault for $100,000

NEW CLOCK IN FRONT

This week marks the second anniversary of the National Bank of Narberth, whose new charter was approved by the Comptroller of the Currency in May 1934. As reported at its stockholders' meeting in January, deposits rose during the year 1935 from $333,307.90 to $465,198.41—an increase of forty per cent. The total now is at the half million mark, with some 2,300 depositors showing their confidence in the bank and in the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation guarantee of individual accounts up to $5,000.

At the monthly directors' meeting held Monday, approval was given the insuring for $100,000 of the safety deposit vault and its contents. The boxes, which rent for a small nominal yearly amount, are insured against loss of any description, and due to the fireproof vault's strength, are now doubly safe depositories for valuables of any description.

This Tuesday Cashier Carl B. Metzger, Jr., had a Postal Telegraph clock installed in front above the door, as an easily-read reliable time-reference for passersby.

Closing Luncheon on Tuesday for Narberth Women's Club

There will be dramatic readings by Mrs. Robert Nelson, who is a graduate of the Leland-Powers Dramatic School of Boston and is a teacher of dramatics.

The annual reports will also be given.

The fellowship committee will give a luncheon and bridge next Thursday at the home of Mrs. Charles Breerwood, 9 Elmwood avenue, at one o'clock. For reservations call the chairman, Mrs. J. H. Speck, Narberth 4003-J.

Clean-Up Week Here Starting on Monday

Collections on Usual Schedule: Rubbish Should be in Containers

SCOUR ATTIC, CELLAR

Two usually friendly collaborators in the Narberth Borough Government fell into disagreement last week over the plans for Clean-Up Week which is to be observed here all next week. John R. Hall, the Burgess, who gets about the borough a good deal, suggested to Robert F. Wood, the highway chairman, the desirability of printing "Clean-Up Week" placards and posting them up all over the borough. Mr. Wood couldn't see that at all. "Why litter up the borough in order to clean it up?" was his reply.

Mr. Wood said that notices of Clean-Up Week had already been printed in this paper twice, and would be once more, but Mr. Hall replied that that did not reach "the people who do not read the newspapers, and they might be the ones that especially should be reached." Mr. Wood could not agree, however, and therefore the success or failure of Clean-Up Week in the borough all of next week may reveal conclusively whether newspaper circulation is effective in the borough.

The purpose of Clean-Up Week is to remind and encourage all citizens to go over their premises, especially the cellars, and discard every possible useless object as a means of fire protection and as a sanitary precaution. During that week the borough trucks and men, on their regular collections, will remove and carry away all articles and refuse that are put out in proper form, or in receptacles, so that they can be conveniently lifted. The borough men cannot take away rubbish that is just in piles on the ground.

Lower Merion Band in National Contest

Community Sends State Champions to Cleveland for Title Quest

LIST OF CONTRIBUTORS

Through the co-operation of students, clubs and public, Lower Merion's High School Band will participate at Cleveland in the National School Band Contest. The band left yesterday morning at 11:15 o'clock on the Metropolitan Express.

The principal events will take place in the Cleveland Public Auditorium. The marching contest tomorrow will be in the great stadium, located near the auditorium.

Class A bands will be contested this morning.

Lower Merion will also participate in the mass band concert given in Cleveland on Saturday night. They are due to return home at 8:15 A. M. Sunday.

Three members of the faculty will accompany the musicians. They are George H. Gilbert, principal of the schools; Allan V. Nern, director of the vocal music department of the school, and Bruce C. Beach, director of the band.

The trip to Cleveland was made possible for the 1936 State champions by the contributions of the following institutions, clubs and individuals: Strawbridge & Clothier's Main Line Store, $100; Showpeople, $100; Boys' Hi-Y, $50; Egyptian Theatre, $50; Dr. H. J. Tily, $50; Student Council, $25; L. Herbert Tily, $25; Harry C. Tily, $25; Girls' Hi-Y, $25; John W. Clark, $13.50; Dr. Lawrence R. Davis, $5; Phi Sigma Chi, $5.

The incomplete returns of the band donations amount to $501, while the present returns from the sale of last Monday's concert tickets have reached a total of $912.75. The sum of the special contributions, added to the donations of the band members and sale of concert tickets, is a grand total of $1892.25.

The Political Pot

Old-line Democrats are still sniping at the New Dealers in Montgomery County. One day it is reported that John T. Durbin, Penn Wynne, Lower Merion Township Democratic chairman, will seek the county chairmanship now held by Thomas H. Lineaweaver, Haverford. Next day that ambition is denied by Mr. Durbin. The McAvoy-O'Neill-Rosenberry faction threatens a fight against the Haverford man. However, Lineaweaver will retain the chairmanship if he wants it. Another suggested candidate for Lineaweaver's post is Joseph McElwee, Merion committeeman.

At the Republican County Committee's biennial reorganization this week, Walter A. Wilson was elected treasurer to succeed Robert C. Miller. Peter C. Hess, Main Line Republican leader, placed Wilson's name in nomination. Wilson, former Burgess of Norristown, is editor of the Norristown Times-Herald owned by Ralph Beaver Strassburger, Republican convention delegate, and the only daily newspaper in the eastern end of the county.

Other new officers are Mrs. Elizabeth Wilson, Abington, vice-chairman, and Joseph K. Weaver, Lansdale, one of four secretaries. Re-elected were Franklin L. Wright, Norristown, as chairman, and Isaiah T. Haldeman, Schwenksville, Mrs. Mabel Seidentopf, Cheltenham, and Mrs. Fannie Allen, Ambler, as secretaries.

Comparison of the official count of the Republican primary vote for Assemblyman in the First District announced Saturday, May 9, with the unofficial totals given by this newspaper in its issue of Friday, May 1, reveal that this newspaper's figures were just eight under Lambert Cadwalader's total of 5143, one under Mrs. Margaret G. Town's total of 963 and exactly correct for Charles Eugene Claghorn, 470, and Howard Lee Colgan, 315.

Dionnes at Narberth: Prize French Film Next

Jean Hersholt as "The Country Doctor" and the Dionne quintuplets as themselves, provide "the blessed event of the entertainment year" at the Narberth Theatre this week-end. Combined with the children's irresistible charm is pleasing comedy and dramatic effect, with smooth direction. Also on the program is the Silly Symphony, "Cock of the Walk."

"La Maternelle" (Children of Montmartre) will be at the Narberth Theatre Monday and Tuesday. Based on a Goncourt Prize Novel, it is the realistic but simple and sympathetic story of what kindness means to little ones who long for a smile or friendly caress.

Superb characterizations are given by Paulette Goddard, Madeleine Renaud—and the children, only a few of whom are "actors," playing their parts so naturally they give what the French prize most in films, realism. There is comic relief in this film, and tremendously moving drama.

The dialogue is in French, but even were there not plentiful English titles to explain the action, the story would be understandable to anyone. It is praised as "One of the authentic masterpieces of the contemporary cinema," "The only movie ever made worth standing up to see," "One of the best films ever made in any language," "Greatest film ever made... to make international picture history."

In addition to the evening performances there will be a matinee Monday at 3:05 P. M.

Wednesday, Narberth's cash award night, the feature will be "The Bohemian Girl," with Balfe melodies and Laurel and Hardy comedy.

Thursday, by popular request, there will be a return engagement of "It Happened One Night," with Claudette Colbert and Clark Gable.

For the week-end, Myrna Loy and Robert Montgomery are coming in "Petticoat Fever," and Pete Smith's interesting short subject, "Audioscopes," will be shown.

"Trail of the Lonesome Pine" Now at Egyptian: "Desire," "Fauntleroy" Next

Excellent exciting drama is afforded in "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine," the John Fox, Jr., best-selling story of mountain feuds, now playing at the Egyptian. Sylvia Sydney, Spunky McFarland, Fred Stone, Nigel Bruce, Henry Fonda and Fred MacMurray give convincing characterizations. Exquisite color photography creates a dynamic series of visual images that seem like beautiful oil paintings come to life. The direction is vigorous and sustained.

The Walt Disney cartoon, "Mickey's Polo Team," is on the same program; and also a new Pete Smith subject, "Air Hoppers."

Monday and Tuesday, Marlene Dietrich and Gary Cooper, stars of "Morocco," are coming in "Desire," a comedy of intrigue, with European settings of charm and beauty, and a glamorous love story. Dialogue is amusing.

"Little Lord Fauntleroy," Frances Hodgson Burnett's classic, is given a memorable performance with Freddie Bartholomew in the title role, aided by an all-star cast. Beautiful photography and sympathetic direction make this picture rarely artistic. It is coming to Cynwyd, Wednesday and (Bank Night), Thursday. A special after-school matinee is promised for 3:30 Wednesday.

Loretta Young and Franchot Tone are coming the rest of next week in "The Unguarded Hour," a refreshingly different drama of Mayfair domestic complications.

Joseph T. Berta, of Iona avenue, Narberth, has purchased a 170-acre farm in Pickering Valley near Chester Springs. He will remodel the house and make it into a summer home.

Girl Scout News

The monthly supper meeting of the Leaders' Association in District 8 took place Monday evening at the Main Line Girl Scout headquarters in the Bryn Mawr Presbyterian Church. The most important subject for discussion was the new Dove Mill day camp on the Longstreth estate, in Bryn Mawr (where scouts' own was held), which will be conducted four days each in two consecutive weeks. The dates for Dove Mill day camp are July 13, 14, 15, 16 and July 20, 21, 22, 23. Mrs. Carl Axel Thaysen, of Narberth, is day camp director with a week's training at the National Girl Scout School, Camp Macy, Briarcliff, New York; Mrs. William A. Dyer, of Ardmore, is in charge of transportation and Mrs. Henry D. Booth, Jr., is registrar.

Many of the Main Line Girl Scout leaders are planning to attend the regional week-end at Camp Indian Run, Glen Moore, eleven miles beyond Downingtown, May 22 to May 24 inclusive, when courses in dramatics, handicraft, mariner program, nature, pioneering and troop camp planning will be given.

International Good Will Day, sponsored by the Threefold Movement in New York City, is held annually on May 18 and is dedicated to "the principles of love of country, humanity and universal benevolence"—a credo which aptly expresses the spirit of Girl Scouting.

Troop 8 to Hold Court
 Troop 8 will have its annual Court of Awards at the scout house next

Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock.

At this ceremony at the close of the scout year the girls are presented with the badges and awards they have earned during the year. The first part of the program will be given to a series of skits depicting the course of scouting. This promises to be the most interesting program in several years, as in the ceremony to follow more than twenty different kinds of awards will be made.

At the meeting last Tuesday evening the girls held a rehearsal for next week. There will be a special practice this Saturday at 10 o'clock. Everyone taking part must be present. The troop extends a most cordial invitation to the parents and friends of its members to attend its meeting next Tuesday.

Students Visit Nurseries

Twelve students in nursery classes at the Pennsylvania State College last Thursday made a tour of inspection of A. E. Wohlert's Garden Nurseries in Penn Valley. Recently a delegation of thirty students from Cornell University made a similar study of his methods, Mr. Wohlert reports.

TIME OUT

With TOMMY MACKLIN

One of the outstanding and most satisfactory individual performances by local athletes during the past week was the shot throwing of "Little" Ed Beetem, 225-pound bantamweight of the Lower Merion track team. Ed completely forgot himself and uncorked a heave of fifty-two feet and two or three additional inches. This mighty effort pleased coaches, teammates and others, for it was by far the longest "put" that Big Ed has had. It will be quite a sensation if the big boy forgets that Don Vogts is the record holder in the shot event and that he is not supposed to beat the No. 1 man, for if he ever throws the cannon ball as far as he should, all existing high school records in the event will be a matter of history. Big Ed can do fifty-five feet if he gets all muscles working at once.

Don Vogts had an off day at Lafayette on Saturday, but with his running mate doing well and the rest of the track team working up expectations, the Lower Merion squad won the interscholastics at Easton by a wide margin. Norristown was again the runner-up. The various meets which have been run thus far point to the belief that the Maroon has the crack squad of the suburbs. It looks as if the former kings of the cinder-path will return to the throne this year.

The concert given by the Senior High musical organizations on Monday night was delightful in every way. A good band and a good choral group. The men have done well with the material at hand. Don't be surprised if the boys win in Cleveland, but the odds are about fifty to one against them. If they are "right" when they perform they are well within the championship class. Good luck, boys!

While the senior high track team was doing so well at Lafayette on Saturday last the junior high squad visited Tome School down Maryland way. Little expectations of winning were nurtured by the coaches, but the boys stepped right out and won the cup with a total of over fifty points. Smedley, of Chester, placed second, followed by many of the Maryland schools.

Notable events left on the local sports calendar include the Norristown High baseball game on Pennypacker Field on the 22d, the P. I. A. A. track meets at West Chester and State College and the Suburbans at Norristown the last of the month. For the junior high the District No. 1 championships at Norristown loom as the most important of the remaining athletic events.

The 1935-36 year has been a very successful one in all of the sports. Championship teams in soccer in the senior high and football in the junior

Friday, May 15 — Haverford at Swarthmore (tennis). Lower Merion at Lansdowne, Radnor at Swarthmore (baseball). Abington and Lower Merion (tennis—boys at Ardmore, girls away).

Saturday, May 16—Swarthmore at Haverford (baseball). P. I. A. A. District One track meet.

Tuesday, May 19—Haverford High at Norristown, Lower Merion at Upper Darby, Collingdale at Radnor (baseball). Haverford vs. Lafayette at Easton (track).

Wednesday, May 20—Upper Darby at Haverford High, Radnor at Lower Merion (track meets).

Friday, May 22—Ursinus at Villanova (baseball). Upper Darby at Haverford High, Norristown at Lower Merion (baseball).

Local schools fared badly last weekend in the Interae Baseball League. Episcopal Academy, league leader, dropped a game to Friends' Central, 5-2; Germantown Academy defeated Haverford School, 3-2, the winners scoring all their runs in the seventh; Montgomery School lost to Chestnut Hill Academy, 11-5. . . . Haverford School also lost to Lawrenceville (N. J.) Academy, 7-0. . . . In league games Tuesday, Haverford School overwhelmed Episcopal Academy, 16-1, while Friends' Central nosed out Montgomery School, 3-2, with homers by Dick Beeler and Ted Heller, latter with one on base, scoring all of the winner's runs.

Haverford High won from Cheltenham, 10-2, last Friday, while Media shut out Radnor, 5-0. . . . On Tuesday, Norristown, Suburban One High School League leader, made it seven straight wins at the expense of Upper Darby, 11-8. Haverford High won from Lower Merion, 4-0. In the No. 2 section Radnor was shut out by Darby, 8-0.

At the Lafayette interscholastics, Lower Merion took six firsts out of thirteen events and rolled up 81 points to gain the Class A high school division championship. Norristown was second with 61 points. . . . At the Villanova interscholastics, Upper Darby took the Class A title again with 38½ points. Sixth was Haverford High, 22, and ninth was Radnor, 11. In Class C, Episcopal Academy was fourth, 22; Haverford School, sixth, high; with a successful season for Al Adam's football team; a championship in both senior and junior high basketball; outstanding track teams in both schools, and with good baseball teams which may finish the season with winning streaks, gives Lower Merion a very satisfactory showing. A State championship for the school band puts frosting on the cake.
